1 What is traffic school?

Traffic school is a course designed to improve driving knowledge and, in many cases, reduce the impact of a traffic ticket.

2 Is traffic school the same as defensive driving?

Yes. Depending on your state, it may be called defensive driving, driver improvement, basic driver improvement (BDI), or driver safety program (DSP). All refer to similar courses.

3 Is online traffic school accepted?

Yes. As long as the course is approved by your state or accepted by your court, it is valid.

4 Am I eligible to take traffic school?

Eligibility depends on your state and court. Typically, you must have a valid driver's license and a minor violation.

5 Can I take traffic school for any ticket?

No. Serious violations (like DUI or reckless driving) are usually not eligible.

6 Do I need court approval before taking traffic school?

Yes. If your state does not have a state-approved program, you should confirm with your court that the course will be accepted before enrolling.

7 Will traffic school dismiss my ticket?

It depends on your state and court. Some states allow dismissal, while others only prevent points from affecting your record. Rules vary by location.

8 Will I still have to pay my ticket?

Yes. Traffic school does not remove the fine.

9 Does traffic school remove points from my record?

Not exactly. In most cases, it prevents points from being visible to insurance companies.

10 Will my insurance accept traffic school?

In most cases, yes — but you should confirm with your insurance carrier to be sure the course qualifies.

11 Can traffic school lower my insurance?

Some insurance providers offer discounts for completing a defensive driving or traffic school course, but approval varies by carrier.

12 How long is the course?

Most courses take between 4-8 hours, depending on state requirements.

13 Is the course self-paced?

Yes. You can start, stop, and resume anytime.

14 Can I take it on my phone?

Yes. Courses are mobile-friendly and work across devices.

15 Do I have to pay before taking the course?

You can start your course for free. However, you must pay before taking the final exam and completing the course.

16 Is there a final exam?

Yes, in most states. It is designed to be straightforward and easy to pass.

17 What happens after I complete the course?

Your completion is processed and your certificate is delivered based on your state or court requirements.

18 How long do I have to complete traffic school?

Your deadline is set by the court or state.

19 What happens if I miss my deadline?

You may lose eligibility or face additional penalties.
